

Abstract of the Disclosure

A convertible top (1) of a motor vehicle (2) with a roof part (3) which is connected to the material (4) of the convertible top, has at least one mounting element (5) attached on the material (4) of the convertible top. In the installed state of the convertible top 1, the at least one mounting element (5) is detachably connected to at least one corresponding mounting element 6 of the roof part 3.